FAST BREAK NOTES

FALL CLINIC

This year's clinic will take place on Thursday, October 4th and Friday, October 5th at JustAgame Fieldhouse in Wisconsin Dells. This clinic has been expanded and we look for it to be one of the finest clinics in America. All information about the clinic can be found on pages 5 and 6 of this newsletter.

ALL-STAR GAMES 2018

Record donations and over 5500 fans! The games were a huge success. As a result, The WBCA will be giving the MACC Fund a record donation. A big thanks goes out to all the players and coaches of this year's games.

MEMBERSHIP

The WBCA fiscal membership runs from August 1, 2018 to July 31, 2019. Individual membership is $60 for high school and college coaches and $25 for youth coaches, friends and referees. Note: Staff membership has changed to as school special membership. This allows your school to sign up 15 coaches, men and women coaches together and you can sign up your athletic director for free for a total of $150. I can't imagine any school or college passing up this offer. Also, lifetime membership remains $100 for retired coaches. But remember, if you you're retired and go back into coaching, you need an individual membership for the years you remain out of retirement.

AWARDS

A list of all award recipients for conference champs, wins, longevity, achievement, state champs, assistant coaches, coaches of the year and special awards can be found on pages 15-18 of this newsletter.

TIME TO REMEMBER

Four legends in Wisconsin basketball recently passed away. Mike Heideman, Woody Wilson, Dick Wadewitz and Paul Augustyn were all great coaches. Each one of them influenced the lives of many young people. Our thoughts and prayers are with their families.

NEW AWARDS

The WBCA established two new awards last year. We sent banners to the state qualifiers who did not finish 1st or 2nd. Also, we started an award called the outstanding coaching "Achievement Award". It is given to a coach in each division that has had a great season, but who probably did not make the state tournament. The winners of this award are listed with the other award winners.

HALL OF FAME BANQUET

The WBCA Hall of Fame Banquet will be held on Saturday, September 29th at Glacier Canyon Lodge of the Wilderness Lodge in Wisconsin Dells. A form for anyone who wishes to attend can be found in this newsletter.

SUNSHINE FUND

Sixteen years ago the WBCA Executive Board established our "Sunshine Fund". The purpose of this club is to aid coaches during times of distress to them and their families. Hundreds of coaches have received support from the WBCA since it was established. Help may come as a card of encouragement, flowers, financial help, memorials in their honor or a chain letter of prayers. We hope to brighten a day or honor a family member. If you know a member, past or present, that can use a little help, please contact Executive Director, Jerry Petitgoue at 608-778-1986 or Associate Director, Ken Barrett, at 608-317-1577. Coaches helping coaches is a major goal of the WBCA. Please help us identify those in need. Over the years, the WBCA has donated over $7,500 to the Sunshine Fund.

WIAA NEWS

Kate Peterson Abiad has been named the Assistant Director of the Wisconsin Interscholastic Athletic Association by Executive Director, Dave Anderson. Peterson Abiad was most recently head women's basketball coach at Cleveland State University and formerly was an assistant coach at the University of Wisconsin. The WBCA looks forward to working with the new director.

Have a great year everyone! Remember the WBCA is here to help coaches, players and schools through the great sport of basketball. If we, as an organization, can help you in any way, please let us know.

Jerry Petitgoue, Executive Director of the WBCA can be reached at: jerrypetitgoue@icloud.com , 608-778-1986 or by mail at 218 S. Randolph St., Cuba City WI 53807

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Greetings Coaches!

It's hard to believe that it is September already! I hope you all had a productive summer in the gym and also took some time to recharge your batteries before gearing up for pre-season activities. I'd like to congratulate and thank all of those involved with the WBCA All-Star games in June. The games are a great way to display our state's talent, but more important, is our long-standing partnership with the MACC Fund (Midwest Athletes Against Childhood Cancer). We are excited to be giving our largest donation to the MACC Fund to date after this year's games. We will be presenting a check for $175,000 to the MACC Fund at an upcoming Buck's game in October. WOW! I would also like to extend my sincere gratitude and congratulations to John Cary who has retired after 36 years as the MACC Fund's executive director. John has been an integral member of our executive board and a champion for the MACC Fund and WBCA. He has touched the lives of many, and we wish him all the best in his retirement!

I was fortunate to attend the National High School Basketball Coaches Association convention in July and represent the WBCA. Most of our conversations at the convention revolved around high school coaches involvement in the Commission on College Basketball. For more info, go to: . I was extremely proud to share all the great things the WBCA does, and quickly learned that many states throughout the US try to model their coaches associations after us. I'd like to congratulate WBCA Executive Board Member Ken Barrett as he has been selected to be on the NHBSCA executive board!

As I write this letter, we are working on final preparations for our inaugural boys and girls showcase at Just A Game Fieldhouse in WI Dells. It is a true showcase with fundamentals, skills tests, and games. We have some of the top coaches in the state that will be coaching up the athletes throughout the day, along with Coach Dick Bennett and Kate Peterson Abiad as guest speakers to give the athletes insight on what college coaches look for in recruits.

We are also looking forward to the Hall of Fame banquet on September 29th at The Wilderness in the Dells. Congratulations to all the inductees and award winners; it is always a great evening celebrating Wisconsin's rich basketball tradition. A special thank you to Joan Petitgoue for all of her work planning the event!

One of my favorite ways to prep for the season is the fall clinic. This year, the clinic will be held on October 4th and 5th and once again, we have a great line up of coaches sharing their knowledge, expertise, and anecdotes. Please go to this link for more information: www.wisbca.org/fallclinic. Also a reminder to make sure you take care of your membership registration. Please encourage and help new coaches to get involved in the WBCA.

For those coaches that signed up to be on a committee to discuss recommendations about the shot clock, seeding procedures, and division/enrollment breaks, we did meet with Kate Peterson Abiad this summer to discuss these items with her. We are waiting for some more details and data from her before moving forward. You will hear from myself, or Dan Witter (who will be taking over as the WBCA president in January) in the upcoming months about how we will proceed.

I'd like to welcome all the new members to the WBCA and extend our gratitude to our current members! Thanks for all that you do to grow the game!

Sincerely,
Niki Sutter
WBCA President

MHSAA SURVEY: 43% OF STUDENT-ATHLETES PLAY MULTIPLE SPORTS

Nearly 43 percent of athletes at Michigan High School Athletic Association member high schools participated in more than one sport during the 2017-18 school year, according to the first-ever Multi-Sport Participation Survey conducted this spring and inspired by the work of the MHSAA's Task Force on Multi-Sport Participation.

Early and intense sport specialization has become one of the most serious issues related to health and safety at all levels of youth sports, as overuse injuries and burnout among athletes have been tied to chronic injuries and health-related problems later in life. In early 2016, the MHSAA appointed the Task Force on Multi-Sport Participation as part of a continued effort to promote and protect participant health and address the issues leading to early sport specialization.

While there is a growing amount of research detailing the negative effects of early sport specialization, there is little research on the prevalence of sport specialization, including at the high school level. This MHSAA survey received responses from 79.9 percent of member high schools and will be conducted annually to measure how multi-sport participation exists at schools of different sizes and also the progress being made to increase it at all schools.

"It's now well-known that students who specialize in one sport year-round are prone to all kinds of health hazards. This is serious business; we have to find out the ways and means to promote the multi-sport experience," former MHSAA Executive Director John E. "Jack" Roberts said. "This survey will help us identify best practices. If I'm an administrator, and another school of the same size and same demographics has twice the multi-sport participation as my school, I want to know why. What are they doing to encourage that culture?"

From schools that responded to this year's survey, 42.5 percent of students participated in athletics in 2017-18 – 46.3 percent of boys and 38.7 percent of girls. As anticipated, Class D schools enjoyed the highest percentage of athletes among the entire student body, at 55.2 percent, followed by Class C (50.1), Class B (45.1) and Class A (39.1*).

Of those athletes counted by responding schools, 42.8 percent participated in more than one sport – including 44.6 percent of boys and 40.6 percent of girls. Class D again enjoyed the highest percentage of multi-sport athletes, 58.1 percent, followed by Class C (55.2), Class B (46.7) and Class A (35.9*).

Similar results for overall sport participation and multi-sport participation relative to enrollment size were seen by further breaking down Class A into schools of fewer than 1,000 students, 1,000-1,500 students, 1,501-2,000 students and more than 2,000 students. For both sport participation as a whole and multi-sport participation specifically, the smallest Class A schools enjoyed the highest percentages, while percentages then decreased for every larger size group of schools.

The MHSAA Task Force on Multi-Sport Participation also recommended measuring multi-sport participation in MHSAA member schools to recognize "achievers" – that is, schools that surpass the norm given their enrollment and other factors that affect school sports participation. An achievement program is being developed for future years, and this year's survey results will assist in setting a benchmark for that recognition.

In Class A, Marquette (82.6 percent), Grand Rapids Union (74.1) and Holland West Ottawa (74.0) posted the highest percentages of multi-sport athletes. In Class B, four schools achieved at least 80 percent multi-sport participation – Birch Run (87.1), Gladstone (83.8), Clawson (81.0) and Shepherd (80).

Class C saw 13 schools with more than 80 percent of its athletes taking part in more than one sport, led by Ubly (90.2 percent) and Detroit Southeastern (89.2). Four Class D schools responded at higher than 90 percent multi-sport participation – Brethren (95.4), DeTour (94.3), Jackson Christian (91.7) and Waterford Our Lady (90.8).

EXCEPTION TO BACKCOURT VIOLATION APPROVED IN HIGH SCHOOL BASKETBALL RULES

An exception to the backcourt violation and a clarification regarding specifications of the ball comprise the changes approved for the 2018-19 high school basketball season.

The National Federation of State High School Associations (NFHS) Basketball Rules Committee recommended the changes at its April 9-11 meeting in Indianapolis, and all changes were subsequently approved by the NFHS Board of Directors.

Rule 9-9-1 states that “a player shall not be the first to touch the ball after it has been in team control in the frontcourt, if he/she or a teammate last touched or was touched by the ball in the frontcourt before it went to the backcourt.”

An exception was approved to note that any player who was located in the backcourt may recover a ball that is deflected from the frontcourt by the defense.

Theresa Wynns, NFHS director of sports and officials, said the committee approved the exception to ensure that a team is not unfairly disadvantaged on a deflected pass.

The other change approved by the Basketball Rules Committee involved more clearly defining the cover of the ball in Rule 1-12-1c, which now states that the ball “shall have a deeply-pebbled granulated surface . . .”

Wynns said the term “granulated surface” should provide manufacturers a better idea of what a deeply-pebbled cover should look like.

In addition to the two rules changes approved by the committee, several points of emphasis were identified for the coming season, including concussion recognition, proper procedures for blood issues and coaches monitoring injury and research trends.

“The committee wanted to stress continued education in recognizing signs and symptoms of concussions for coaches, athletes, parents and officials,” Wynns said. “In addition, concern of overuse injuries due to sport specialization should be monitored, and recognition of blood on players and uniforms and the proper procedure for removal of blood and return to play are other areas for education.”

Wynns noted that coaches have primary responsibility for making sure players are wearing legal uniforms and are legally equipped. She said emphasis will be given to rule enforcement in the areas of traveling, legal guarding position and establishing possession during loose-ball situations. Lastly, the committee believes official professionalism and use of proper terminology should be emphasized.

“Overall, the committee believes the rules of the sport are in great shape. These changes provide more clarification in areas where there has been inconsistency in interpretation and will help manufacturers in producing basketballs that meet NFHS specifications,” said Francine Martin, NFHS Basketball Rules Committee chair and assistant executive director of the Kansas State High School Activities Association. “The committee evaluated input from the NFHS basketball rules questionnaire, which is available for all coaches and officials to complete and provide input for future rules changes during the meeting. The points of emphasis are geared toward sports medicine issues and consistent interpretation of playing rules.”

A complete listing of all rules changes is available on the NFHS website at www.nfhs.org. Click on “Activities & Sports” at the top of the home page and select “Basketball.”

Basketball ranks third in popularity for both boys and girls with 550,305 male participants and 430,368 female participants, according to the 2017-18 NFHS Athletics Participation Survey.
